

Advancing Access

Curriculum Extension Programmes

The College & Learner Experience

The Context

- Newham Sixth Form College
- Comprehensive Entry 1 – Vocational Level 3 & A Level
- Honours Programme
- Opportunity and space to work with Universities
- Encouragement of college managers to face outwards

History, Memory and Identity

- Lecture series with King's College
- History, Memory and Identity
- Why do people remember
- the past differently?
- Stimulate your intellectual curiosity | Develop higher level academic skills

Projects 2018-2019

- HM&I lectures on Wednesday afternoons
- Toynebee Hall Project: Ordinary People – Extraordinary Stories
- Kings Project: Teaching Empire & War
- MML: Charlie Hutchison Project

Curriculum

- Moving away from the restrictions of the syllabus
- Actively devising the curriculum – making it more inclusive
- Exploring themes such as race, gender and personal history

Thinking

- Developing new ideas
- Thinking creatively
- Experimenting
- Changing perceptions

Personal Skills

- Working collectively
- Using original resources
- Producing original personal responses
- Meeting deadlines
- Taking part in one off / unique events

Self Development

- Finding out about yourself and what you are interested in and want to pursue in the future
- Enjoying learning and the experience of learning
- Changing directions

Student Outcomes

Student Outcomes

Student Outcomes

Student Response

- “I never imagined my art would have such a powerful impact on someone. It was an unforgettable experience.”
- Anastasia Grujic (Year 13 Student)

Student Outcomes

You are children of Africa.

You are children of gold.

And now your story is being told.

‘Children of Gold’

Noah Enahoro

Student Response

"I was honoured to be part of this project, Charlie Hutchison's story would not have been told if we had not carried out this research into him, and discovering all that he has done throughout his life.

This story highlights that there were people of other races in big movements but not as represented to us when we study history in the national curriculum pre-university."

Noah Enahoro

Wider Impact

“To the students for their excellent work including their art and poems. The family members present were moved to tears. The ages of the family ranged from to 15 to 75 and they all enjoyed the Celebration at the MML. My father Charlie Hutchison a modest man, if he were alive today, he would be most humbled to be honoured in this way.”